Skipping

Skipping is a swivel stool that adjusts in height thanks to a robust piston mechanism. Available with upholstery in eco-leather, leather or emery-leather, it is particularly comfortable thanks to the sinuous shapes of the seat, with cold foamed polyurethane padding. The structure and the footrest are made of mat painted metal or chrome-plated steel. With its understated, curvilinear but minimalist line, designed by Karim Rashid, Skipping is welcoming and comfortable and integrates perfectly within original environments, characterised by refined atmospheres. A plastic sign, extremely pure and contemporary: an original and fascinating object that, protagonist of space with its agile and dynamic presence, appears comfortable and inviting even from the first glance.
